

I am very happy that I don't get sales calls at home when I am trying to enjoy my dinner etc... I think this program is fantastic. All it does is save me from being nasty to people when I tell them to stop calling me and then hang up on them. If I want to buy something, I can just either go to the store or go on the internet and get it. My buying hasn't changed much since I haven't received these telemarketers calls and it won't change if they start calling again. All it brings is aggravation that I do not need. Please do not take this service away. It should be a choice. Thank you.
